Misrepresenting the League of Nations

The "Bulletin" of the League of Nations Society in Canada has blundered very stupidly in printing the misleading and ill-informed article on Palestine which appears in the May number. The headline of the article in question declares that the "Mandate in Palestine is a burden and not a benefit to the British taxpayer." There is no excuse for so patently false and mischievous a statement, on the part of a publication like the "Bulletin." As the official organ of the League of Nations Society in Canada it is intended to disseminate correct information so that a right and instructed public opinion on the work of the League of Nations can be secured and maintained.

The transactions of the League of Nations are all recorded in accessible documents. The Mandates Commission receives periodical reports from the British Government on the administration of Palestine. Memoranda are also submitted from the Zionist Executive, from various Arab committees and from other bodies claiming to be interested in Palestine. These reports are all published. The Mandates Commission examines them and in turn reports to the Council of the League. The Commission's reports are also published, as well as the discussions at the Council. Independent of these are the official reports to the British Government of the Palestine Administration and a whole series of parliamentary papers on the progress and development of Palestine. There are also the Ministerial statements made in the British Houses of Parliament.

Seeing that the "Bulletin" has displayed such ignorance and apparent bias with regard to Palestine, we wonder whether it can be trusted for any reliable information as to the working of the League in other directions.

Perjury in the Courts

Every now and again judges find it necessary to refer to the prevalence of perjury on the part of witnesses in court proceedings. The latest instance is that of Judge Choquette, of the Court of Sessions at Quebec City. The learned judge announced that he and his colleague would have crucifixes installed in the court room as a reminder of the sanctity of the oath.

We doubt very much whether the suggested remedy is a wise one. The crucifix is a symbol of religion most sacred to the majority of the citizens of the Province of Quebec. Its presence in the court room will become a symbol, not of religion but of the depravity of some individuals. It will advertise the fact that the word of a Catholic cannot always be trusted. It will have some deterrent influence, no doubt, but we suggest to the learned judge the application of an old rabbinic principle, which no doubt has its counterpart in Catholic teaching that it is preferable for people to sin ignorantly than wilfully. Besides the crucifix will influence only those who respect it.

The giving of false evidence is a contemptible thing. When one is called upon to assist the administration of justice and deliberately perjures oneself, one loses claim to participation in the benefits of the social system and the protection it affords to the individual. The perjurer should be outlawed to the extent of losing all the privileges of citizenship. He should not be admitted as a plaintiff in any court. He should not be permitted to exercise the franchise. He should be deprived of police protection. If, instead of invoking the deity in the perfunctory way customary in most courts, the judge were to warn the witness that perjury will bring the sure penalty of loss of all citizen rights, the practice would die out very quickly.

The Hebrew University

The report of the Board of Governors of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem just issued is an inspiring document. It tells us what the University has done during the past term and indicates very clearly the enormous importance of the university not only for Palestine, but for the whole of the Jewish world as well. The Faculty of Science primarily concerns Palestine. It is a research institute for those who have graduated elsewhere. The subjects of investigation and study are those which are of immediate importance for the development of the country, such as the question of diseases to which cattle and poultry are subject, of processes for the utilization of the mineral wealth and for the improvement of the tobacco industry. That part of the report is far too technical for the lay understanding.

But we can realize from the syllabus of studies in the Arts Faculty what a profound influence the university is bound to have over Jewish thought everywhere. Students who have acquired the critical faculty in European universities are, under the guidance of experts of repute, making researches into such subjects as the sources of Jewish Civil Law, of Geonic Innovations in Jewish Law, of the History of Jewish Mysticism. One cannot help feeling that Palestine, with its Jewish atmosphere, is the right location for such studies. And one cannot help feeling assured that research on these lines will bring clarity in the confusion that now prevails in all directions of Jewish development. Much of Jewish tradition is, as Rabbi Mattuck of the Liberal Jewish Synagogue in England says, like the embalmed body of something long since dead, instead of being the living force it really should be.

It is encouraging, too, to know that the Institute of Oriental Studies is starting this summer with research classes for advanced students in Arabic literature and history and its relations to Jewish literature and history. The beginnings of the University are small in scope, but they are being based on a sound foundation and we have reason to be glad in our hopes for the future.

Punctuality

Why must a Jewish meeting or function always commence late? It seems to be an almost universal custom among Jews to start meetings an hour or more after the advertised time. In fact it is the acknowledged practice of most organizations to announce the time of a meeting for at least half an hour earlier than it is intended to hold

Montrealer Starts Playground in Palestine

A dusty quarter of an acre, in the heart of excavations in the old City of Jerusalem, where age-old walls frown down on incongruously modern playground equipment, bids fair to be the foundation stone of supervised play in the Holy City, according to Mrs. Lillian Cornfield, formerly of Montreal, who founded, organized and supervised the venture, barely a year ago.

Mrs. Cornfield, formerly Miss Lillian Kert, was born in Montreal and educated at Belmont School and Macdonald College, and is on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Kert, 287 St. Joseph Boulevard West.

Another daughter, Mildred was married last year to Max Seligman, and is also living in Palestine.

Taking up school teaching as her vocation, Mrs. Cornfield was identified with the activities of Young Judaea, and four years ago went out to Palestine. She found employment in her own profession and developed the Girl Guide movement. Last year, Mrs. Guggenheimer, of Lynchburg, Va., visited Jerusalem, and in consultation with Mrs Cornfield, sponsored the idea of a playground and community centre, the only one of its kind in the city, and agreed to finance the venture for its first year.

The playground itself is open to all races and creeds, and notices of its programme are posted in both Arabic and Hebrew, the two popular languages of the section. All ages from three to eighteen years are catered for in handicrafts and team games. There are also a dramatic society, a singing class, a dancing class for girls, and Boy Scout and Girl Guide activities.

David B. Loveman, founder of Chattanooga's oldest and largest department store, has passed away. He was born in Hungary in 1844 and came to the United States in 1853.

Every Friday

From Ivri Onouchi, "the official organ of the Jewish Guilds of Johannesburg, Pretoria, Capetown, Kimberley, Bloemfontein, Bulawayo, Krugersdorp and Windhoek and the general Jewish communal organ of South Africa," under the head of "Cultural Notes":

"On Thursday, 4th March, a Hat Night was held in the Guild Room. This amusing and instructive function was extremely well attended. Mr. Sam Cummins was in the chair, with Mr. Ben Vallentine as collector of fines. A number of members had some interesting perorations on such widely diverse subjects as Hebrew and bootmaking, motorcycles and fleas. Mr. I. Lewis distinguished himself by speaking on no fewer than four subjects of wide diversity." The acid test for culture!

The president of the Pennsylvania State Association of Master Plumbers recently said in a newspaper interview that Jewish young men are the most scrupulously clean in the United States judging from the amount of shower baths and fixtures sold to Jewish institutions. This should be of some cheer to mothers who have trouble with the unirrigated districts back of their sons' ears or whose sons never see much cause for washing for low neck when it doesn't show anyway.

Something has happened out in Winnipeg which is being referred to chastely by the Jewish public prints in that locality as an "incident," but which really seems to have been more virulent than that. The following letter, written to A. Skaletar, chairman of the board of education of the Winnipeg Hebrew Schools, by S. Goldman, gives a hint of what can occur in a climate that raises hair on the chests of Jewish gentlemen:

"Dear Mr. Skaletar:

"In view of the incident which happened at our board meeting last Tuesday night I feel that I am in danger of my personal safety and I am therefore compelled, with much regret, to resign from the board.

"In passing I may state that after spending so many years in the service of the Talmud Torah it comes as a distinct shock to me to find that the institution, instead of being a seat of learning as was originally intended, may possibly degenerate into a prize-fight ring; and as I have never had any training along those lines I feel that I might not be able to keep up in the competition with some others who perhaps have had a lot of experience in that line.

"Wishing the Talmud Torah every success along the lines it was originally intended, and trusting that my colleagues on the board of education will keep in good health in order that they may protect themselves properly should the occasion arise, I remain, Yours very truly, etc."

It is probably all over now and people are speaking to each other again who once rolled up their sleeves and called each other bad names. Perhaps even Mr. Goldman is going to board meetings again at the ringside seat of Jewish learning and getting a kick out of them as of old. Teeth knocked loose have had time to be replaced and blood no doubt has cooled considerably. Those in the know say that the "incident" arose out of a "discussion," as it were, about whether one of the teachers of the Talmud Torah should be "forced" to conduct two classes instead of one. Of course men have been drawn and quartered in their day for less, but that was all this time. Thus the lords of creation, "heirs to all the ages in the foremost files of time"! Yet sometimes they sit down and smile indulgently together at the doings of ladies meeting in auxiliaries.

David A. Brown, head salesman for the United Jewish Campaign, whose every corpuscle is said to be very red, rather overstretched the elastic limits of high-pressure salesmanship recently in the matter of the Minneapolis Jewish community. The Zionists there wanted to combine their United Palestine Appeal with the efforts of the J. D. C. to raise money. Mr. Brown thought it inadvisable, so he as good as told the leaders that "the goblins would git them if they didn't watch out." His telegram, a classic in the annals of modern Jewry, contained these words:

"If the leaders in Minnesota will not conduct a campaign in accordance with practically every other state in the union, we shall be compelled to take such steps to raise our money in Minnesota as the circumstances may warrant. We are ready to go to the Christians in your state with a [illegible] organization if absolutely necessary."

Social Life about 25 Years Ago— Do You Remember?—

The congregation Agudath Achim, of Ottawa, purchased 417 Rideau Street, for a shul. The school moved into the basement where Rev. A. Doctor presided. it. It does not seem to matter how one stresses the desire for a punctual start, the actual start is invariably late.

Those whose duty to the community, or whose interest in its welfare, demands frequent attendance at meetings are compelled through this Jewish habit of unpunctuality to waste an appalling amount of time. Each person may make his own calculations, but there are many busy men and women who spend on an average half an hour a day of unprofitable time waiting for meetings to commence. This is a very conservative estimate, but half an hour a day adds up in the course of a year to 182 hours and if one reckons eight hours to a working day it means the loss of over three whole weeks of useful time lost every year with no compensating advantage whatever; for the wasted time is all taken out of the useful hours of the day.

Strange to say, there are recognized occasions when punctuality is strictly observed. One never sees anyone late at a Jewish funeral. Jews, too, are always on time at a non-Jewish function. One can appreciate the reason for punctuality at a non-Jewish meeting. The Jew feels that he must show his Christian neighbour the respect that he does not find so necessary for his own people. But why does one invariably find Jews actually waiting for a funeral to commence when they are never in a hurry for a wedding or a "briss?"

Again the worst offenders in regard to unpunctuality are not the older people from other lands where they were not trained to the habits of promptness. The worst offenders are precisely the younger people, who have been trained to be punctual at school and at work or business. Their flagrant disregard in Jewish matters, except at funerals, of the punctuality which is the mark of gentility and good breeding is a psychological puzzle. They are nice people, well-behaved, considerate in most things. But in this regard they fail. It is not a trivial thing. It is a distinctly bad habit, and quite inexcusable.

Nine people out of ten who will read these lines will agree that the Jewish habit of lateness is a bad one. They will assure themselves that they never offend in this regard, and will then turn up late at the very next meeting or ceremony, unless it should happen to be a funeral.

Sensitive Skins and Lux-Laundered Lingerie

For over a score of years Lux has been on the market

The cleansing qualities, the economy and the safety of this inexpensive laundry necessity, has encouraged many imitations.

For your protection Lux is sold only in packages, never in bulk.

THE same care you give to hands and face is due the skin from head to toe.

Those intimate garments which touch, rub and sometimes chafe the skin should never be laundered with harsh soaps, or soaps of unknown quality. You can safely trust your lingerie to Lux.

Lux, the world's purest cleansing agent for fine fabrics, will keep your dainty wardrobe clean, bright, fresh looking, and protect your skin.

What soft water will not harm, Lux will not harm—even the skin itself.

Used according to directions printed on the package, Lux is the most economical cleansing agent you can use

The smaller the wardrobe of fine things, the greater the need for Lux. Lux lengthens the life of all fabrics.

NORTHERN ONTARIO CANADA

Northern Ontario, now open for settlement at fifty cents per acre, contains millions of acres of the finest agricultural land in the world. Its resources in lumber, mineral, water power, fish, game and scenery, are immense. The land calls for men to cultivate it, and in return will give health, comfort and prosperity.

What settlers say of the soil, climate farming and forest life, is told in a most attractive booklet issued under the direction of the Honourable John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario. Full instructions in regards to acquiring a title to these rich agricultural lands are also given.

Since his desertion of villainous roles, Lew Cody has gained wide recognition as a whimsical comedian and in this company he is supported by such laugh experts as Trixie Friganza, favourite of screen and stage, whose "Bag of Trix" was a vaudeville headliner; Karl Dane, the comedy star of "The Big Parade;" Cesare Gravina, Harry Myers of "Connecticut Yankee" fame; Arthur Hoyt, the "height of insignificance," and ZaSu Pitts the feminine Buster Keaton.
